"UltraMarks is a free and easy-to-use watermarking software for Windows that allows you to add a watermark to any JPEG or PNG file, even on your device without a memory card. UltraMarks is easy to use because it can watermark image files at real time, and it also allows you to set custom watermarks, including text and shadow watermarks. You can also set multiple custom watermarks at once. UltraMarks lets you change text and font size, background color, orientation, and other options. You can even add a second line of watermark text. It can also export multiple images to one file with a custom watermark, and you can even add your own image as the watermark. And with the free demo, you can get a feel for UltraMarks without any obligation to buy. While UltraMarks can be used to watermark images on a single device, you can also watermark files with multiple pictures by dragging the files into the application. You can also import multiple files into one picture by dropping the files into the application." - by John. "UltraMarks is a very easy-to-use watermark software, and the free trial version (demo version) is easy enough for anyone to try it out. You can install and start using it immediately." - by Teng. "Puts macro on each photo, one at a time." Q: getting data from wsdl I have a wsdl file which i need to create a soap request using PHP. I've been looking for a way to generate this request but the only information i can find is that i have to use one of the tools found here: I've been looking around but I can't find any other information so my question is what do I need to use in order to get this information. Thanks in advance. A: The best way to do it would be to use soapui. It is a GUI that can be used for all types of SOAP requests. I find it to be really useful. But if you can't use it because of work reasons you can have a look at this - Q: How to take an IP address and make a RTP endpoint out of it? If I'm on the client end, and I'm connected to a server with an IP address 10.0.0.1, how can I route all RTP traffic from this endpoint to the remote player? I know that you could use a Proxy Server, but that would mean that all connections to the server would have to go through the proxy server first. I'm looking for a setup where the remote player can make the connection directly to the endpoint on the server. What I have in mind is that the remote player will make the connection and the endpoint on the server will respond with a SDP. The remote player will make another RTSP connection to the endpoint to actually deliver the media to the client. What would be the most efficient and easy way to achieve this? A: I think a good idea to do is to write a SDP answer. RFC 3264 is great. In section 4.6.1, you can find the following: A client MAY send a request for negotiating a specific media component (e.g., address, transcoding, and so 1d6a3396d6

UltraMarks

UltraMarks is a utility to add watermarks to any existing image. It has several options for choosing your watermark text and the image's properties. UltraMarks is a .NET application and therefore works perfectly on Windows and Windows Vista/7. It can add text and shape watermarks to any image (BMP, JPG, TIF, GIF, PNG, WMF, EMF). UltraMarks allows you to use the "shadow" option to show a shadow image when the watermark is shown.

UltraMarks includes several watermarking presets. Each preset uses a different technique. They are configured in a simple and intuitive way. Use the Quick Start guide to learn how to use UltraMarks. UltraMarks has a "light" mode which is used to show the shadow effect when the watermark is shown. You can use the "lite" version for free till May 1, 2012. Go to UltraMarks is a free utility (FAR Version) for the FAR file format which is used to open all digital pictures in all digital cameras.
