The Song Remains The Same (Tony Blair Labour Party Strategy and Campaign 2000) This is from the launch of the Labour Party's 2000 election campaign strategy. "We all know where this is going. Blair will be in No 10 at the election. Labour will be in power. "But we will have won the election because the party is in a better place than it was in 1997. The economy is recovering. Our tax take is rising. And in this year of renewal for the Labour Party, we have launched our latest election campaign, our first campaign with its own manifesto. The new manifesto has been drawn up in consultation with the front line. It is all about persuading people that we are the party of realism, of reform, of the
