Moreover, the supported file extension is not at all common, and compatible files can in fact only be found on Learners Hub Full Crack's homepage. Given that this tool is in its early development, it is evident that only a handful of files is currently available. Aside from the abovementioned lack of tinkering possibilities in what concerns the functionality of the utility, it is also limited in terms of appearance and usage. As such, the main window is not resizable, nor can the text font or dimensions in the slideshows be customized. Similarly, users can only navigate the presentation by pressing CTRL+ left / right arrows, or from the corresponding options in the 'Slide Control' menu. A nice addition would be, for instance, the ability to customize hotkeys.
