A number of scientific papers have been published describing some of the world's most promising visions of the future for transportation (see Science 2018, 319(5867), 2419–2427). The paper, led by Ilya Yaroshchuk at the University of Nottingham, United Kingdom, found that electric vehicles can save between four and 23 times more fuel and greenhouse gas emissions per person than traditional cars and that autonomous vehicles could save the equivalent of 44–80% of current US road vehicle emissions in 2050. Development of an HPLC assay to simultaneously quantify salicortin, 8-deoxy-7,8-dihydroneopterin and dihydroneopterin in malaria parasite extracts. Salicortin is an important metabolite that has been used to determine the inhibitory potency of potential antimalarials in vitro. There is need to develop a reliable assay that will allow the simultaneous quantification of salicortin, 8-deoxy-7,8-dihydroneopterin and dihydroneopterin in malaria parasite extracts. The analytes were separated using a Dionex Ultimate 3000 analytical system with an Ascentis RP-Amide column (250 × 4.6 mm, 5 μm) equipped with a C18 precolumn. The mobile phases consisted of 0.2% trifluoroacetic acid in water
