Deleting data between two dates php I have a database that contains a "date_creation" and "date_cancellation" and a "date_transport" column. How can i tell the program to delete all the data in between the "date_creation" and "date_cancellation" and than the data in between the "date_transport" and "date_cancellation"? A: It's actually pretty easy: DELETE FROM [table] WHERE [date_creation] >= @date_start AND [date_cancellation] Q: how to resolve this java program where we set the order of start values for the array I have a question regarding the below program where we are declaring an array of 5 numbers and then setting the starting points for the array. import java.io.IOException; class ArrayDemo { public static void main(String[] args) throws IOException { int arr[]=new int[5]; System.out.println("Initial contents of the array: "); for(int i=0;
