What's new in Legend Of Miro:

ku is a Japanese manga written and illustrated by Ayumi Ishida. The series was serialized in Shueisha's Ribon magazine from November 2009 to April 2019. It received the Eisner Award for best U.S. Edition of International Material—Japan in 2016. An anime television series adaptation by Studio Green aired in Japan between April and June 2017. Plot Legend of Miroku follows Miroku, who is fascinated by history and mythology. When he comes across a strange object on the beach, he attempts to recover it by any means necessary. His encounter with an old woman, known as, forces him to take responsibility for her. Together with her and her friends, the survivors of the Andesides in the second year following a nuclear holocaust, the trio embarks on a journey to recover the object that is said to contain the "heart of the Great Spirit." However, neither of them really knows what they are doing. Along the way, they meet a variety of people who may or may not also be responsible for the Andesides tragedy, but end up falling in love with each other in between their missions. Characters Main , often referred to as just, is a 16-year-old freelance writer from Japan, who is the main protagonist. Miroku is a boy who loves history and mythology, and although he is not very tall for his age, he is a very bright, cute and smart young man. He has a friend living in the same apartment complex, Koji who is quiet and composed. His parents may or may not be dead. He has an uncle living in Osaka named who has always been interested in him and gifts him military clothes and weapons. He ends up fighting with Enma because he wants to investigate the incident that caused the Andesides' tragedy and tries to protect Seishūn. He sometimes calls use when he's distressed. Miroku is currently on Level 10 of the "Heroic Journey" quest in the CCG card game. In the Andesides Saga and the main storyline, his name was written as Miren Kusano. However, in the CCG final battle storyline, his name is written as Miroku. Miroku would be also known as the who is considered as the hero, given the circumstances, of the manga. He has the same father and mother as Greisaert, and is in a different generation. He also undergoes the same age-
