E..Q: batch-file: how to implement / check exiting process and return / exit by command? I need a simple batch file which reads first process from console and runs it with some options reads second process from console and passes it to the first process (kills - restart it) runs the first process the first process reads back second process from console and executes it (restarts it) the first process ends with success exit batch file Do you see a way to do it? A: You can use a script file to perform this task. This script is saved as restart.bat @echo off set ProcessExists=0 :Loop call :DoProcess 1 0%ProcessExists% set /P ProcessExists=nul call :RestartProcess %1 %2) else (call %2 %1) goto :eof Note: Both processes should be terminated (using exit /B) in the :DoProcess script in order to ensure that the second process can end, and then the first can restart it.
