I have tried using the regular expression `^\{.\+\}/.+` and even tried adding a space where the curly brace is between the words. It is reading the entire line as one string. Any ideas on how to fix this? A: I got it! This ended up being a language agnostic issue! I have tried with many languages, html, javascript, etc and it is giving the same result: For instance, with java, the regex is: `/[[^]]/` Which in python is: `re.compile(r'[[^]]')` This will match anything between the closing brace and it's opening brace. The solution was to use another regex which is javascript specific: `^\{\{.\+\}\}/gmi` Again, the solution is to compile this with python:

re.compile(r'\{\{.\+\}\}',re.IGNORECASE)

The present invention relates to a mechanism for discharging used-up photographic film in a single-use camera, and more particularly to a mechanism for urging an unused portion of a filmstrip out of the camera. Single-use cameras which include a mechanism for automatically advancing a filmstrip into the camera after the camera has been exposed and a mechanism for automatically retracting the filmstrip from the camera after the image has been made are known. Such a mechanism for urging a used portion of a filmstrip out of the camera is disclosed, for example, in U.S. Pat. No. 3,799,864 issued on Jan. 24, 1974. In a single-use camera of the type including the mechanism for urging a used portion of a filmstrip out of the camera, it is desirable to provide, in addition to the mechanism for automatically retracting the used portion of the filmstrip, a mechanism which positively urges the used portion of the filmstrip out of the camera. A mechanism which positively urges the used portion of a filmstrip out of the camera is disclosed in U.S. Pat. No. 3,735,917, which issued on May 22, 1973, and in U.S. Pat. No. 3,768,286, which was issued on Oct. 30, 1973. In one known mechanism for urging a used portion of a filmstrip out of a camera, an unused portion of the filmstrip is
